Georgia Promise Scholarship Program Service Provider Handbook

Introduction

Introduction

This guide has been assembled to support eligible service providers through the implementation of the Georgia Promise Scholarship, the state's new education savings account program administered by the Georgia Education Savings Authority (GESA).

Signed into law in 2024 through Senate Bill 233, the Georgia Promise Scholarship will empower families to pursue exceptional educational programs. In addition to funding tuition at participating private schools, the Georgia Promise Scholarship will allow eligible families to use funds for eligible tutoring, therapy, and instructional services with accredited community colleges / post-secondary institutions and online program providers. Additional product types will also be eligible, such as curriculum, supplemental materials, and certain technology items. All expenses will require final approval from GESA. This handbook will provide more information regarding service provider eligibility, as well as a timeline for the 2025-2026 school year. For more program information, including student eligibility, please reference, MyGeorgiaPromise.org.

Thank you for your interest and support of the Georgia Promise Scholarship Program.

What is the Georgia Education Savings Authority (GESA)?

GESA was created as part of SB 233 to administer the Promise Scholarship. GESA is a companion entity to the Georgia Student Finance Commission (GSFC), which runs the HOPE / Zell Miller scholarships, ACE grant program, and various loan programs, among others.

- Students may use funds on eligible expenses in the program marketplace from approved service providers

General Application Questions

1 How may I apply to be a service provider?

Please visit <https://gapromisevendors.withodyssey.com/registration/> to apply before February 7 in the first application window. Additional application windows will open in April, July, and October.

2 How may I add service/expense offerings to the service provider marketplace?

After being approved as a service provider and onboarded to the program platform, you will, at a later date, be asked to request approval for specific expenses. More information on the process for submitting requests to approve specific expenses will be available by Spring 2025.

3 What other expenses may families use funds for?

Pending GESA approval of product offerings, families will be able to use funds for curriculum and supplementary materials, certain technology expenses, and other approved categories (in addition to eligible services such as tuition, tutoring, and therapy).

4 May I provide services (i.e., tutoring and therapy) to a family member?

No, program funds are prohibited from use on services provided to direct family members (such as children, grandchildren, and siblings, among others).

5 How will I receive payment for product/service offerings?

Payments will be sent through the program platform partner, Odyssey, for fulfilled orders.

- For services, this means that the service provider has performed the first scheduled service.
- For physical goods, this means that the service provider inputted a tracking number within the Odyssey portal.

Following program approval, service providers will be asked to connect an account via Stripe to allow for funds to be sent to the preferred bank account of a service provider. Instructions for this process will be made available upon approval.
